LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

Lloyd Riddell has gone to Edmonton where he will attend school for the next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mooney and child of Ensign, Alta., were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Menard.

Don Perquarous was down from Calgary during a weekend looking up his old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Manroe and family of Rosebud spent Sunday in town visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Woods.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Barrett on September 19th.

Messrs. Stewart Hampton and Al White made a harvesting trip to Calgary last Friday afternoon to have their fishing gear looked into. It happened that they had been having very good luck of late coming from the river and figured a trip to the city would fix things up. While in Calgary of Hampton called on his son, Neil, who has been quite ill but is now improving.

"When little Bennie, who is fond of listening to the children's hour on the radio, knelt down to say his prayers the other night, he finished in an unusual way. At the close of the customary string of petitions, he said: 'This concludes our program for tonight. Good night and amen.'"

Anyone with a warm place in the house—near living room fire place or the kitchen stove—knows what compensation to expect for the loss of daylight which begins each year about this time. With the shorter days come longer evenings. The family gets acquainted. There is less time for sports and more time to share one's summer experiences with those to whom they mean most. Of course, a boy doesn't often come home, even after dusk, because he has got tired of staying out. But once he is home he's gladder of it. And girls, for whatever reasons girls do things seem to find home more interesting when everybody's there who ought to be. You can fill a long list with the nice things that come along with time of yearlight from neighbors' windows striking out to meet your own across the street; houses that seem to have been quiet most of the year suddenly become alive again. We don't mean to make your list. Just to remind you to keep a place in it for the day and night of the home.

People who think the country is going to the dogs are the people who talk about shorter days. All they think about those pleasant longer evenings.

OBITUARIES

JAMES GREER

James Greer who left Glencallen some years ago died in Calgary last week after a brief illness. Crowfoot Memorial Inveiling Ceremonies Sunday Afternoon

Next Sunday, September 23, at 2:30 p.m. a memorial of cast stone, in honor of the famous Chief Crowfoot will be unveiled at the Crowfoot Hall, a half mile straight south of town. In his time Chief Crowfoot was the most famous Indian chief in Western Canada. He died on April 25, 1850 and was buried near South Camp.

This monument has been erected by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada and the ceremonies in connection with the unveiling is sponsored by the Old Timers' Association of Alberta.

Chief Crowfoot is famous in that he kept the Blackfeet Indians away from trouble with the white man, and signed Treaty No. 7 at Blackfoot Crossing, September 22, 1877—71 years ago—and which has never been broken in any way by either side.

To be present on this memorable occasion will be the head chiefs and councillors of the Piegan, Sarcee, Blood and Stoney, and probably a Lacandon Indian. Cpl. R. N. Yates, who has charge of the local detachment of R.C.M.P., will be in charge of the police of whom there will be a number present. Also present with the R.C.M.P. will be Inspector Hatch of Calgary.

The honor of unveiling the monument will fall on Joe Crowfoot, grandson of the famous chief.

Following is the program.

Of Canada.

Chairman—Mr. Harry R. Wilson, President of the Southern Alberta Pioneers' and Old Timers' Association. Opening Invocation—Rev. E. Cole, Principal Old Sun School.

Presentation of the Memorial—Prof. M. H. Long, University of Alberta, Member of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada.

Unveiling of the Memorial—Mr. Joseph Crowfoot.

Address—Mr. Edward Yellowly.

Address—Senator F. W. Gershaw M.D., of Medicine Hat.

Closing Invocation—Rev. Father A. Charron, O.M.I., Principal of Crowfoot School.

God Save The King.

U.F.W.A. Hold Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Ferguson on Thursday, September 10. There were 19 members and 16 visitors present to answer the roll call. The president, Mrs. J. Wilson, opened the meeting with two songs. The general business then took place and the organization donated $5 to the cancer fund. The annual U.F.W.A. dance was discussed and it was decided to hold it on the evening of October 10 at the home of Mrs. E. Ferguson. The lunch convales for the dance is Mrs. Geo. McEwen and she will be assisted by three helpers. The dance will be given by Mrs. Desmit. The ladies will co-operate in decorating the hall with Mrs. J. Wilson in charge. It was decided to hold a quilting bee in the near future with Mrs. McEwen in charge. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Hauke on September 16. The lunch committee will be Mrs. D. Yule, Mrs. Geo. McEwen, Mrs. E. Umbrie and Mrs. R. Hayes.

ives and friends. They expect to leave for home towards the end of the week.

Great progress has been made during the past week in harvesting the biggest bumper crop the district ever has. The fine weather has continued and the combines run from daybreak until dark. There is a shortage of railway cars and this is causing some inconvenience to the farmers. Given a couple of more weeks of the weather harvesting should be pretty well finished. Many men who have finished have moved on to their neighbors farms to help finish up the work there.

Julius Little, Gleichen's best known story teller, states that one day last week he went down to the river to fish and he had the good fortune to catch a couple of trout. This is how it happened. On the shore of the river he saw a large snake with a frog in its mouth. Of course Julius took the frog away for bait. But being a compassionate soul he took a flask of creek out of his hip pocket and put a couple of drops in the snake's mouth to recompense it for the loss of the frog. He went about his business. Suddenly he felt a tap against his leg and looking down he saw the snake with another frog in its mouth, holding it up to him.

Cpl. Pat Beach Injured by Prisoner

Cpl. Pat Beach, R.C.M.P., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Beach, and his wife had quite an exciting time in the barracks at Balcarres, Saskatchewan, when a man charged at him and was man attempted to escape. A press despatch says in part: "Police said 25-year-old Frank Catlack, committed for trial on a charge of murdering Florence Brabant, 30, Aug. 16 went berserk in the R.C.M.P. guard room late Thursday night and injured Cpl. Pat Beach in an attempt to escape."

"Catlack is said to have seized a chair and beaten Beach on the head. Mrs. Beach is reported to have fought Catlack of until her husband regained consciousness. Police said Mrs. Beach announced all through the telephone office while her husband subdued Catlack. Two other constables were assigned to guard Catlack for the rest of the night. He was to be returned to Regina jail today to await his trial at Melville next month. Both Catlack and Beach were treated for head injuries."

"As the preliminary hearing a constable told how Catlack had strangled the Regina waitress on August 15 and then fired the shack the two had occupied."

Mr. Beach was in telephone communication with Pata's wife Monday night and learned that Pat was still confined to his bed through his injuries but is coming along alright. Mr. and Mrs. Beach are leaving on Thursday for Saskatchewan to visit their son.

An English Journey

By Walter Legge representing the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

Buckinghamshire has no very large places, two of the largest ones being High Wycombe and Aylesbury, both of which are well worth a visit. Both places have interesting markets on market days. These are open air markets under canvas have stalls selling clothes, jewelry, used postage stamps for collectors, fish, books, kitchenware, vegetables and a wide variety of other articles. There are some delightful ancient inns, one of the best being the King's Head and the Bull's Head. The King's Head stands at the top of the market place almost hidden behind other buildings and is so unusual that it is now the property of the National Trust although still used as an inn. It is a remarkable Tudor building with medieval warfare, rare twenty light mullioned windows set with heraldic glass and has wattle and daub walls.

The next place is Waddesdon. The Charles Bagot and Lord Allington dates from 1150 when the castle and south aisle were built until 1340 when the north aisle was completed. It is a splendid old building with a Norman tower from the top of which gives a splendid view of the countryside which includes the Rothschild estate. At Tring there is a fine large church dating from the 13th century although there was a former stone church on the same site as early as 1100. Many ancient churches have most peculiar carvings and 14 in this church, one on each of the trusses, may be taken as typical examples. These are some carvings of a monster with a woman's head and dragon's wings, a beast swallowing a man, a willow tree, a dragon, an antelope with tusks, a dog with a collar, an angel with a shield, a fox carrying a goose on its back, a monkey with a bottle and a lion with a dragon. Each carving really had no special meaning but were included as ornaments by workmen.

Oxford was our base for the next week, is a large city known the world over as the centre of learning for the English speaking world. Here are 22 colleges the oldest, University dating from 1249 (although it may be several centuries older than that) and the youngest, Keble, started in 1870.

Two things immediately strike the visitor, first the tremendous number of bicycles, for the streets are filled with bicycles, and every vacant spot seems to be filled with them; and the number and variety of the students, for they come from all over the

Progress In Science

THE PLACE OF RESEARCH in the national economy has become increasingly important. During the war, the value of research work was recognized in all countries and it was shown that well trained scientists given adequate facilities and financial support, were able to make great contributions toward solving many of the most complex problems of the war. A notable example of this was the speeding up of the great new field of atomic energy, a development which might not have taken place if many years yet had not been given the resources and support to carry on intensive research work, with the object of producing the atomic bomb.

More Money Is Being Spent

In Canada, the need for research work in furthering the development of our peacetime economy has been recognized, and the amounts spent to provide for scientific research has been substantially increased. The Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, recently announced that the Canadian government now spends more than $40,000,000 annually on research and scientific activity. In 1946, the amount allocated to this work was $30,000,000 and in 1947 it was $38,000,000. In 1948, only $6,000,000 was allowed for this purpose, showing the expansion which has taken place since that time. Of the $40,000,000 spent this year, it is estimated that $34,000,000 will be used for research and development work, of which $6,000,000 will be spent on construction and purchase of equipment.

Indications Of More Interest

In his report Mr. Howe drew attention to the fact that during the last years of the war, research and other scientific work for military purposes was three or four times greater than the last few years of the civil war. Now, however, it is expected that two-thirds of the annual expenditures will be devoted to problems related to the country's peacetime economy. In addition to the work which is being done under the auspices of the Dominion government, $5,000,000 is being spent by the governments of eight provinces for scientific work on matters which are within their own jurisdiction. The per capita expenditure for each province for this work is: Ontario 42 cents, Nova Scotia 43 cents, British Columbia 42 cents, Alberta 33 cents, Saskatchewan 27 cents, and Manitoba 26 cents. Quebec's expenditure was not announced. These reports indicate that support for scientific research and development in Canada is increasing and this will undoubtedly mean that there will be progress in agriculture, medicine, industry and other matters essential to the welfare of the nation.

Honest Man Works Years To Pay Debt

HARROW, England.—A white-haired man of 73 went back to center job in a London store recently—after at least a 42 (42) years. It had taken him 37 years to pay. In 1911 William Walton's outfitter and job in Liverpool went bankrupt and Walton owed a firm of shirt makers £42. He had to work for the firm to pay the debt with interest no matter how long it took. He got a job as store assistant and worked as a side part of his wages every week. At 65 a mixture of gases, and not a chemical compound.

It is warmer in winter and cooler in summer when built on a good foundation like this (one cement and rocks). I am just planning boards for future work." Mr. Bariloff lives on a homestead of 115 acres. There are large farms around but most of the land is still in plow land.

Irrigation Dam To Be Built Near Medicine Hat

MEDICINE HAT.—E. L. Gray of Regina, superintendent of water development for the Prairie Farmers Rehabilitation Act, confirmed reports that an irrigation dam will be built near Gros Ventre Creek, 40 miles southeast, to provide a greater water reserve for irrigation between Irvine, Alta., and Medicine Hat. He said an appropriation has been set aside and the project will be started as soon as the provincial water resources board gives its approval. The dam, estimated to cost between $20,000 and $25,000, will provide additional storage for 6,000 acre feet of water. The flow will augment supplies in dry years through the Gros Ventre and Ross Creek courses which join near Irvine.

High Prices Force Vegetarians To Become Meat Eaters

VICTORIA.—Even vegetarians are having a hard time with the high cost of living. They have joined the ranks of the meat eaters in high-price protests. Fruit and vegetables today are three times higher than they were 10 years ago. "As an example," said one grocer, "we used to sell carrots at five cents a bunch. Now we sell a similar sized bunch at 15 cents. The same thing is pretty well true of all fruits and vegetables. So there isn't much use of gaining vegetarians if you plan to get away from the high cost of meats."

Manitoba Drilling Sets Record Pace

WINNIPEG.—The most extensive oil drilling tests ever undertaken in Manitoba have been in progress this year. Drilling crews from Alberta are now operating for the Standard Oil of California in the Brandon area. The test borings are up to 3,000 ft. and are being made at corners of each township. Tests were started early in the year at a point 100 miles southeast of Brandon and by the end of the year will have been extended to areas about 40 miles northeast.

Fire Saturday Night Causes Excitement

Fire caused by an overheated bathtub in the coal shed of Eli Sherbiff caused considerable excitement in town about midnight Saturday. The building which is fair size contains a bathroom and the water is heated there. There is also a lot of coal and other material stored in the building. When the fire was discovered it was already out of the roof and by the time chemical engine was brought to the scene it looked hopeless to try to put out the blaze. Bunk Menard took charge of the engine and in no time at all the chemical smothered out the blaze. One of the men who proved that this engine began a few years ago can do wonders in smothering fires if handled properly. There was a large crowd in attendance and there was great excitement for some reason or other.

DESSERTS WITH A SPARKLE

The desire for a sweet, to finish of a meal, seems to be almost universal. Desserts with a gelatine base are light, appetizing and in many cases economical.

The early types of gelatine were forms of linings made from fish or sea weed. These still have many commercial uses but they have been replaced by animal gelatine for culinary purposes.

Jellies extend the flavor of expensive foods and make simple foods look expensive. Jellied salads and desserts also make use of small amounts of left-overs. There is an added advantage in the fact that jellied mixtures may be prepared well in advance of the meal thus leaving the last minutes free for other tasks.

Here are two desserts suggested by the home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture are well worth a trial.

Apple Sauce Mould: 1 package lemon jelly, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 2 cups apple sauce.

Mix jelly powder with boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Fold in apple sauce. Pour into a mould. Stir several times while chilling. When set turn out and serve with custard sauce or cream. Six servings.

Moulded Fruit Cream: 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup fruit syrup, 1/2 cup sugar,

1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 cup canned fruit, dried, 1 cup whipping cream. Soak gelatine in cold water. Bring syrup to boiling point, add sugar and soaked gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Cool. When mixture is partially set, add lemon juice and dried fruit. Fold in whipped cream and turn into a moistened mould. Chill thoroughly before serving. Six servings.

of interesting things, and it would take weeks to even see them all.

In the library of Merton College there is an original copy of "Canterbury Tales" printed by Caxton at Westminster in 1478; some ancient chained books; a book which belonged to Mary Tudor (Bloody Mary) original minutes of a college meeting in 1328; and a hand lettered book of the 9th century. The Bodleian, however, has the greatest university library in the world and is one of the oldest having been founded 600 years ago. This illustrates the treasures owned by these colleges, but one of the greatest collections in the world is the Ashmolean Museum. We spent two days there and really saw only a little of it. There are always some students or artists making studies or drawings or various statues or other objects.

The Egyptian rooms are particularly interesting where there are items dating as far back as the year 3100 B.C.

The High is one of the finest and most famous streets in the world, lined with nearly a dozen colleges and churches, including Magdalen, which the pronunciation "Maudlin" Queens, All Souls, University and Oriel Colleges, the Botanic Gardens and St. Mary's Church.

Oxford is a delightful blending of the past and the present, and fine modern stores are often next to centuries-old buildings. Two inns, one at least 500 years old, one of them being a delightful place hidden behind some of the most modern stores. In Broad Street is a tablet marking the spot where the three martyrs, Latimer, Ridley and Crammer were burned at the stake in 1555. It was then that Latimer spoke those immortal words: "Be of good comfort, Master Ridley, and play the man, for we shall this day light such a candle in England, as I trust by God's grace shall never be put out."

We shall this day light such a candle in England, as I trust by God's grace shall never be put out."

First Aid Hints for SPRAINS and STRAINS

SPRAINS:

When, by sudden wrench or twist, the ligaments and the parts around a joint are stretched or torn, the joint is said to be sprained.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS:

1. Pain at the joint.
2. Inability to use the joint without increasing the pain.
3. Swelling and later, discoloration.

TREATMENT:

1. Place the limb in the most comfortable position and prevent any movement.
2. Expose the joint and apply a firm bandage.
3. Wet the bandage with cold water and keep it wet.
4. When this ceases to give relief, take the bandage off and re-apply it.

In all doubtful cases treat as a fracture.

STRAINS AND RUPTURED MUSCLES:

When during severe exertion, muscles or tendons are over-stretched they are said to be strained; or, if they are actually torn, they are described as ruptured. A so-called strain in the groin (hernia) is an injury of a totally different nature.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS:

1. A sudden sharp pain at the seat of injury.
2. When the muscles of a limb are strained they may swell and cause severe cramp.
3. Further exertion is difficult or impossible; for example, if the strain has occurred in the back the patient may be unable to stand upright.

TREATMENT:

1. Place the patient in the most comfortable position, and afford support to the injured part.
2. Apply a hot compress.
